KANOSUKE DISTILLERY

Kanosuke Distillery went into operation in 2018, however they have been distilling shochu since 1883. Their name comes from their 2nd generation distillery, Kanosuke Komasa. The distillery is located among a number of buildings on a spacious, 9000 sq meter tract of land along the Fukiagehama Beach in Kagoshima Prefecture. The two-story, U shaped distillery houses the distilling equipment and features a tasting bar with a beautiful view. The distillery has three pot stills instead of two, each still composed of different neck shapes and lyne arm angles, allowing for a diversified flavor profiles to blend with.
